GOLF AROUND THE WORLD

From the remote landscapes of Tasmania to the bustling cultural center of Morocco, this exclusive journey takes you to some of the finest courses in the world. In between rounds, spend your nights in exceptional hotels and resorts, dine on the finest local and international cuisine, and travel in style aboard a private jet on this incredible 22-day tour.

KONA, HAWAII

January 27. Arrive on the island of Hawaii to begin your journey to some of the best courses, unique hidden gems and exclusive touring opportunities. Enjoy a welcome dinner and a pleasant night's rest before preparing to board our private jet for Australia. Or, plan to arrive early for an optional round of golf.

MELBOURNE AND TASMANIA, AUSTRALIA

January 28 – February 1. Depart Hawaii and cross the international date line, losing a day en route. Our golf itinerary starts with a roar at three of the finest courses in the southern hemisphere. We begin with the #5 world-ranked course and host of the 2019 President's Cup. The Royal Melbourne Golf Club's West Course has set the standard for Australian sand belt golf. Wide, receptive fairways welcome a variety of play off the tee, and the beauty and challenge of this course are personified by its superb bunkering.

Over the next two days, we take privately chartered aircraft to remote Tasmanian jewels. First, we take a day trip to King Island to play Cape Wickham Links, ranked #21 in the world. This gem of a course is pure golfer versus nature, where windswept seaside exposure requires imagination on every shot. Next, we hop to the northeast coast of Tasmania to play Coore & Crenshaw's Lost Farm at Barnbougle. Ranked #47 in the world, Lost Farm is a masterpiece of dramatic dunes and blends seaside links with inland play. While in Melbourne, spend time between rounds exploring the city on a guided tour, enjoying a food safari in some of the city's 27 ethnic neighborhoods, or discovering Melbourne's riverbank and boroughs by bike. Park Hyatt Melbourne

TPC Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

Muscat, Oman

Al Mouj Golf Club, Oman

KUALA LUMPUR, MALAYSIA

February 2 – 4. Malaysia's passion for golf is evident in Kuala Lumpur, personified by two world-class parkland courses at TPC Kuala Lumpur, ranked the top two courses in Malaysia. The East Course is a test of brains over brawn as the relatively short holes demand accuracy to tight fairways and landing areas. Precision is further required to navigate approaches to well-bunkered, well-contoured and slick greens. An uphill putt is much preferred here!

Our second day at TPC Kuala Lumpur is on the championship West Course, a regular host of the CIMB Classic and Maybank Malaysian Open; Justin Thomas and Gary Woodland share the course record of 61. The grooming throughout the entire club is spectacular and the water in play on 13 holes on the West makes it a unique challenge. Daily excursions in and around Kuala Lumpur include a cultural tour of heritage trails, temples and local markets; a visit to the depths of the Batu Caves; and seeing how batik fabric is designed and printed.

DANANG, VIETNAM

February 5 – 7. Golf in Vietnam has experienced remarkable growth over the last 20 years, and we play two of the country's finest representatives. The championship Dunes Course at BRG Danang Golf Resort, designed by Greg Norman, annually tops the course rankings in Vietnam. The natural terrain and sand dunes are reminiscent of many Scottish courses, and the signature 16th hole rests atop the ridges overlooking China Beach.

On our second day, we travel to Ba Na Hills Golf Club, set in the hills outside of Danang. This Luke Donald design, opened in 2016, has quickly earned a reputation as a must-play in Vietnam. The conditioning is superb across the ground's two distinct nines; a relatively flat front line leads to elevation change on the rolling back side. Off the course, explore Hoi An's vibrant street scene via Vespa, enjoy a walking tour of the ancient Old Quarter and visit the temple ruins of the Kings of Champa. Four Seasons The Nam Hai, Hoi An

February 8 – 10. In Oman, we once again experience two distinct topographies. From horizon to sea, the desert defines everything here. Visitors might expect a target golf setup in the desert, yet Greg Norman defies this convention with the seaside championship course at Al Mouj Golf Club. We'll experience an extraordinary expanse of large, green fairways and bunkering that is both strategic and beautiful.

The seaside topography at Al Mouj is a great contrast to our second round of golf at Muscat Hills Golf & Country Club, set among more undulating terrain. Where Al Mouj is relatively straight, Muscat Hills traces the dry riverbeds that surround it. A bit more shot-shaping and measurement of elevation are required here, and both are sure to be memorable. Local activities include a visit to Nizwa, Oman's most-visited national monument; a cultural tour of fish markets, hot springs, and cuisine; and meeting locals to taste traditional food and learn about Omani daily life. The Chedi Muscat

Mountain gorillas, Rwanda

KIGALI, RWANDA

February 11 – 13. Known as “the land of a thousand hills,” Rwanda’s landscape is a beautiful blend of mountains, volcanoes and knolls. At its geographical and cultural heart is Kigali, where we will keep our golf swing loose and focus primarily on the country’s rich ecosystem and multifaceted culture. We’ll begin our stay with a relaxed morning at the Kigali Golf Club, where playful gradients and tree-lined fairways provide an exciting experience for seasoned and amateur golfers alike.

The remainder of our time will be spent exploring the lush canopies and forested slopes of the Rwandan rainforest, where we will trek into the natural habitat of peaceful and powerful mountain gorillas and observe a gorilla family interact with one another for an unforgettable experience. Retire to luxury villas overlooking the lush jungle wilderness, observe local dance performances and experience the country’s culinary wonders through elevated dinners, cocktails and canapes. Bisate Lodge, Singita Kwitonda Lodge and One & Only Gorilla’s Nest

MARRAKECH, MOROCCO

February 14 – 17. Marrakech is undergoing a sporting boom, and the courses we visit in our final leg both embrace and celebrate the city’s astounding scenery. The Fairmont Royal Palm Golf Club, opened in 2013 and thoughtfully designed by Cabell B. Robinson, is rimmed with bougainvillea, oleanders and the Atlas Mountains. Palm, orange and olive trees pepper this 180-acre course, and its delightfully playable layout contains elevation changes and seasonal plantings that will make you feel like you’re playing in a botanical garden.

Our final round at Assoufid Golf Club is a marvelous way to conclude our journey. Awarded Africa’s Best Golf Course 2017 and Best Golf Club in Morocco 2019, Assoufid’s naturally undulating landscape and snow-capped mountain backdrop is an ideal environment in which to reflect on the incredible venues we’ve experienced over the previous few weeks. Join off-the-course options including touring stunning palaces and mosques and exploring nearby souks and the Djemaa El Fna square. Mandarin Oriental Marrakech
